Comment: Michelle McMullan, Specialist and Head of Sale commented:

“The South Kensington sale of Impressionist and Modern Art demonstrated the strength of the middle market, with Eastern European and Russian collectors playing a large part in the bidding, enticed by the high number of Czech and Russian artists represented in the sale. More than a quarter of the lots were bought or directly underbid via Christie's LIVE, including the top lot – a cubist landscape by Czech artist Jindrich Styrsky, unseen in over 70 years, which sold for £145,250 to an online bidder. Smaller works by well-known artists also proved particularly popular, with Picasso's gold medallion ‘Taureau’ fetching more than five times the estimate.

We look forward to the two-day auction of ‘Picasso Ceramics: The Madoura Collection’ next Monday and Tuesday, 25 and 26 June 2012.”
