Kate Hunt, Specialist, Head of Sale, Christie's South Kensington: "This two day sale welcomed very healthy sell-through rates and far exceeded its pre-sale high estimate, reflecting the positive response from the market to this well curated offering with attractive estimates. The continuing appetite for good quality works was highlighted by the depth of bidding throughout all sections of the sale, particularly for jades, mark and period porcelain and textiles. We are pleased to have attracted a packed saleroom and very active participation on the telephones and online using Christie's Live™ on both days. We look forward to our Paris sale on the 10 December, highlights of which were much admired in our international touring exhibition which also included exceptional works from our sales in Hong Kong and also New York 2015."
